Single Player

Hidden & Dangerous 2: Sabre Squadron adds nine new missions split over four campaigns to the existing missions in Hidden & Dangerous 2.

To run the game, select the shortcut to Hidden & Dangerous 2 Sabre Squadron from the Windows Start Menu or double click the desktop shortcut to the game.

NOTE: You must have the original Hidden & Dangerous 2 DISC1 CD in the CD/DVD ROM drive of the PC in order for the game to run.

To play these campaigns, select the Single Player option from the main menu and you will be presented with the new Single Player menu screen.

From here you can select to play the original campaigns or the Sabre Squadron campaigns. The Sabre Squadron campaigns can also be played in Lone Wolf and Carnage modes.

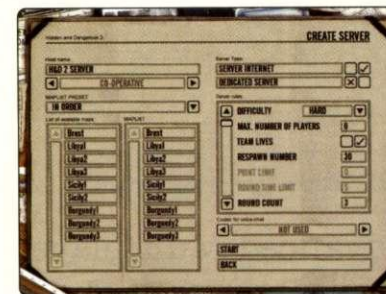

As with the original game, missions that have been completed in either Hidden & Dangerous 2 or Hidden & Dangerous 2 Sabre Squadron will be available to replay again at any time.

Select either Single Mission or Single Mission – Carnage to display a list of those missions that can be replayed.

Multiplayer

Hidden & Dangerous 2: Sabre Squadron contains 3 new maps for the Deathmatch and Occupation modes and 2 new maps for the Objectives mode in Multiplayer.

In addition, all of the nine single player campaign missions can be played cooperatively over a LAN or the Internet with a maximum of six people per team.

To set up a cooperative game, select the maps and the order in which you'd like to play them by double clicking their names. They will be put into your MAPLIST.

There are four additional options that can be configured:

- Difficulty – Select the level of difficulty for the missions.
- Team Lives – If this is selected all of the players will share a pool of lives and, once depleted, the mission will fail.
- Lives – The number of lives that each player or team has to use during the mission.
- Allow Crosshair – The crosshair can be disabled for even more realism.

NOTE: Always be alert and work as a team in order to be victorious.

Hidden & Dangerous 2 and FIREWALLS for Multiplayer Games.

If you wish to play multiplayer games over the Internet and are behind a firewall such as Windows XP Firewall or a firewall on a router please ensure you have opened the following ports:

UDP PORT 11001
UDP PORT 11002
UDP PORT 11003
UDP PORT 11004

Please refer to the firewall or operating system documentation or help files for instructions.

Advanced Multiplayer Quick Reference Guide

Hidden & Dangerous 2 can be run from the DOS command line and from the games dedicated console command window. Examples of command line execution are: (Note, do not included the " " symbols when entering commands).

"hd2.exe -c"

Activates the H&D 2 command console window. Alternatively, double click the HD2DS_SabreSquadron.exe file in the root of where the game was installed.

"hd2.exe -cmd -exec runserver.txt"

Activates the H&D 2 command console and executes commands from the file runserver.txt (or any text file containing H&D 2 commands).

"hd2.exe -cmd -sessionname testgame -style deathmatch -mapname normandy3 -dedicated 1 -server"

Activates the application and executes the game settings specified (see table on pages 14-16).

NOTE: The syntax the game uses is "hd2.exe -cmd [-command parameter] [-command parameter]".

The Exec Command

The exec command can be used for executing game settings contained in a text file, which is quicker than manually typing them into a command line each time.

Assume that you have created two text files in the root of where you installed Hidden & Dangerous 2:

serveroccupation.txt

serverobjectives.txt

With the content:

sessionname testserver
style occupation
mapname normandy3
mapname africa2
domain internet
dedicated 1
server

With the content:

sessionname testserver
style objectives
mapname africa3
mapname normandy1
domain internet
dedicated 1
server

NOTE: When entering the list of commands there has to be an empty line below the last command. In this case that means pressing enter after typing "server".

There are two ways to create the server using either file.

Open the multiplayer dedicated multiplayer console window by typing "hd2.exe -c" in the DOS command line.

Then type "exec serverobjectives.txt" or "exec serveroccupation.txt" to start the preferred game server.

Alternatively, execute the batch file without opening the dedicated multiplayer console window by typing "hd2.exe -cmd -exec serverobjectives.txt" into the command line.

NOTE: After running "hd2.exe -c" to open the dedicated multiplayer console or double clicking the HD2DS_SabreSquadron.exe, use the "listmaps" command to display the name of the multiplayer maps in the form that must be typed when entering commands or creating a file containing a list of commands (see table on pages 14-16).

Voting

Voting can be initiated by the server or by clients; the following settings can be voted on:

restart
nextmap
kickplayer

Voting consists of "vote" + "command" + "parameters", for example: vote respawntime 10

After this has been typed "respawntime 10 - voting initialised" will be displayed on all machines and players have 15 seconds to type "voteyes" if they agree. If more than half of the players vote YES the changes will be made on the server.

Only one voting session can take place at any one time, so until the 15 seconds have elapsed for voting on "respawntime 10" a new vote cannot be started.

NOTE: Should the game be updated in the future, always read the README contained in the update for further multiplayer commands or changes.

Using The Tactical Map

The tactical map is an incredible asset to those players who wish to play Hidden & Dangerous 2 more strategically without controlling their squad members directly.

The most common reasons for making use of the tactical map interface for controlling your squad:

- To survey the battlefield and plan strategies.
- To pause the action when unexpected events occur and adjust your strategy accordingly.
- To move your squad over long distances and establish offensive or defensive positions.
- To Issue a complex series of commands.
- To precisely coordinate and execute ambushes using the signal 1 and 2 commands.
- To spot enemy positions within your line of sight.

Please refer to the Tactical Squad Management section of the Hidden & Dangerous 2 manual for a complete description of the controls and icon functions.

Below is an example of how the tactical map can be used:

After starting a mission press SPACE (default) to pause the game and go into the tactical map mode. From here you have complete freedom to view the mission area and start to plan out your strategy according to the mission objectives.

NOTE: Enemy units will only appear on the map if they are within any of your soldier's line of sight.

In the example below you can see that by navigating the map, five key elements have been noted.

1. A hilltop PAK40 cannon has been located.
2. A German sniper has been spotted.
3. Explosives that have been primed to explode have been located.
4. A manned allied machine gun emplacement to provide cover for your squad.
5. The members of your four-man squad at the start of the mission.

Figure 2:

After establishing the lay of the land you should then issue orders to each member of your squad by adjusting his status with the command icons and then right clicking in the environment to set his waypoints.

Any order or soldier's status can be changed at any time by clicking on the waypoint and changing the commands.

After setting all of the commands you can either press SPACE to return to the game or click the stopwatch command icon to switch to real time and watch the action play out in the tactical map interface. You will also still retain control of the camera and will be able to move it freely to watch your battlefield strategy unfold.

In this example you can see:

1. I've chosen to move my sniper to support an allied soldier and then moved the camera nearer to an enemy sniper, clicked on him with the right mouse button and selected "kill". The sniper will move to this position and carry out this order.
2. I've ordered a second soldier to man the cannon by right clicking it and selecting "use" to set the waypoint.
3. Here a waypoint has been set to move my soldier forward and end up behind cover.
4. Finally, by switching to real time I can watch my squad carry out their orders.

Now that I have established defensive positions by manning the cannon and positioning the sniper for support, the remaining members of my squad can now be issued orders to move forward to engage the enemy and concentrate on completing the mission objectives.

Remember that enemies will only be visible to you if they are within one of your team member's line of sight. Therefore, place troops armed with weapons that have sights in good locations and take advantage of high ground.

1. The manned cannon providing artillery support.
2. A sniper in position to cover the battlefield and act as a spotter.
3. Remember that if your soldier sees an enemy in his sights he will be visible to you in the tactical map.
4. By setting up to ten commands the other members of the squad are ordered to advance whilst staying close to cover and adopting a defensive status so that they will only engage the enemy if they themselves come under fire so that they get to the final waypoint as quickly and safely as possible. Here, ten different commands are set up.
